Council President Peters Dedicates Carmel Valley Trail Signs

SAN DIEGO – Today, Council President Scott Peters joined representatives of the Carmel Valley Planning Group, Friends of Los Peñasquitos Canyon Preserve and community members to unveil two new signs in Carmel Mountain Preserve. The signs were designed by environmental artist Ruth Wallen, and document and celebrate the area's diverse plant and animal wildlife.

Carmel Mountain Preserve was created between 1984 and 1998 through the consolidation of more than 25 different land parcels. It is home to dozens of native plants and animals such as southern maritime chaparral, the San Diego black-tailed jackrabbit and San Diego fairy shrimp.
